

Britney

Bebo Norman

Britney im sorry for the lies we told we took you into our arms and then left you cold Britney im sorry for this cruel cruel world we sell the beauty but destroy the girl Britney im sorry for your broken heart we stood aside and watched you fall apart im sorry we told you fame would fill you up and money moves the man so drink the cup

I know love goes around the world we know and you never see it coming back you never see it coming back
i know love goes around the world we know
and you never see it coming back but i can see it coming back for you yes coming back for you

Britney im sorry for the stones we throw we tear you down just so we can watch the show Britney im sorry for the words we say we point the finger as you fall from grace

I know love goes around the world we know
and you never see it coming back
you never see it coming back
and i know love goes around the world we know
and you never see it coming back
but i can see it coming back for you

Yeah, its coming back for you, yeah, its coming back for you, yeah, i ts coming back for you, yeah

Britney i do believe that love has come here for the broken here for the ones like us

I know love goes around the world we know
and you never see it coming back
you never see it coming back
and i know love goes around the world we know
and you never see it coming back but i can see it coming back

I know love goes around the world we know
and you never see it coming back
you never see it coming back i can see it coming back for you

Its coming back for you... yeah