

Cover Me

Bebo Norman

Cover me, cover up my tears
Cover up this man
Who's covered up in fear
I need a peace of mind,
I need a piece of you
To cover all that's gone
And everything that's new
You unveil me with your mercy
I want to breathe you in
You unfold me, then you hold me

Cover up my heart, cover up my soul
Cover up this world and everything I know
You cover up the sky, you cover up the sea
Cover up the mountains and every part of me
Everything single breath I breathe, cover me

I am still alive and covered up in years
Covered up in lines as innocence appears
So give me a peace of mind,
Give me a piece of you
To cover all that's old
With everything that's new
You unveil me with your mercy
I want to breathe you in
And you unfold me, then you hold me
You unveil me with your mercy
I want to breathe you in
You unfold me then you hold me
I want to shed this skin
You unveil me with your mercy
You unfold me, then you hold me
You unbreak me, would you take me home
