

Go With You

Bebo Norman

Driving down this winding road
I swear that every star is out tonight
Our little boys are sleeping in back
And just now all the world is right
There's nothing much to say now
We're just following the moon
And I don't know where we're going
I just wanna go with you

Maybe we were dreamers once
Building up our castles in the sky
We were running around in circles
Killing time and just along for the ride
But our hearts were taking pictures of Whatever place we're passing through
We never knew where we were going
I was just glad to go with you

And driving down this winding road
Baby I can't see what lies ahead
A million destinations
Sifting all these complications through my head
But then you put your hand in mine
Just as the rising sun breaks through
And you say I don't care where we're going
I just wanna go with you

And I still don't know where going
I just wanna go with you
