

Hear It From Me

Bebo Norman

A love song, You must have heard a thousand times
How can mine compare?
For so long, I've wondered if I'm lost behind
A thousand tongues there, a thousand tongues there

It's all been done before, but I'll do it again
'Cause I know that You want me to
It's all been said before, but I'll say it again
'Cause I know that You love to hear it from me

I see all the ways I don't add up
And all that I never did
But You seek empty hands still lifted up
With nothing to give, nothing to give

It's all been done before, but I'll do it again
'Cause I know that You want me to
It's all been said before, but I'll say it again
'Cause I know that You love to hear it from me

More beautiful to You
Than the songs of angels and gifts of kings
More beautiful to You
Are what empty hands can bring
And what desperate tongues can sing
And when broken hearts cling to You

It's all been done before, but I'll do it again
'Cause I know that You want, You want me to

It's all been done before, but I'll do it again
'Cause I know that You want me to
It's all been said before, but I'll say it again
'Cause I know that You love to hear it from me
So hear it from me, so hear it from me
So hear it from me
