

The Calling

Becoming the Archetype

A thousand years a thousand failures in the making
Myriad leaks have nearly killed the operation

Traitor
Judas

Impossible task impossible odds we're undertaking
With black market supplies and information
No one has dared to face the journey we are making
Since it was outlawed no one even has even tried

The hour is now the voyage is critical
To shatter the boundary of the impossible
Only we can bring them home

Close your eyes and follow the light
Let reality bend itself around you
By conviction and not by sight
Answer the call from deep within you

Zealot
Mad man

Many arose and volunteered to go the distance
All failed to withstand the tests required to jump
Only one reluctant soul displayed resistance
To transdimensional-nano-particle radiation

Close your eyes and follow the light
Let reality bend itself around you
By conviction and not by sight
Answer the call from deep within you

Open the door
Step inside
All you've got to do now is survive...
