

The Promise

BEDlight for blueEYES

I can tell by the look in your eyes the way you disguise the way you feel about me waiting for this moment to collapse you know i tried to, oh god i tried to break through and everytime i look into your eyes, what do I see?
Inside of me?

Waiting for this moment to collapse inside my mind
This time we will run to anywhere you choose I'll give you more than all, more than all I'd slit my throat for just one glimpse into your heart

I can't take this anymore the constant games you've been playing and everytime you look my way all the words you try to say are falling apart where does that leave me?

Waiting for this moment to collapse
you know i tried to, oh god i tried to
break through
and everytime i look into your eyes, what do I see?
Inside of me?

Waiting for this moment to collapse inside my mind
This time we will run to anywhere you choose I'll give you more than all all my feelings galvanized in blood we will run to anywhere you choose I'll give you more than all

Why is it everytime i close my eyes you're there?
i see your face
you're always there
why is it everytime i close my eyes you're there?
i see your face
you're always there
