Sincere Relation

George was born somewhere Inside London town Working as he grew For that extra pound

Respected by all He married and made a home To give his children More than he had known

But then he died Without an explanation He never lied A very sincere relation

Years before a fire Sent him in the street It took him months of work To make ends meet

But then he died Without and explanation He never lied A very sincere relation