

Frostfall

Before I Turn

Thought about you
For a long time
Never thought it'd ever come to this
You were waiting for the sunrise
But your heart was filled with empty bliss
Count the seconds
'Til the world ends
Don't you know it always goes so fast?
Feel the darkness
It consumes you
'Cause you're always dwelling on the bad

It's such a shame
Her crimson eyes blind with pain
The voices are the lonely night that've left you empty inside

I turn my head to ease the pain, but your face is burned in my mind
There's nothing I can do or say to keep you here alive
I tell you I'm not desperate, but you are all that I need
There's nothing I can do or say to keep you here with me

Follow my voice
Follow my footsteps
I'll take you home
Into the darkness
Follow my voice
Follow my footsteps
I'll take you home
Follow my voice
Follow my footsteps
I'll take you home
Into the darkness
Follow my voice
Follow my footsteps
I'll take you home

I turn my head to ease the pain, but your face is burned in my mind
There's nothing I can do or say to keep you here alive
I tell you I'm not desperate, but you are all that I need
There's nothing I can do or say to keep you here with me
