

Imposter

Before I Turn

Who is the person in the mirror?
I never thought I would
Become the man I am now
Lies!
Shelter the wounds inside
Anxiety fills my heart

You're a fucking imposter
You're a fucking imposter
Every night I lie awake
Every night I try to take
My life away
So someone give me rope
So I can end it all
Bury me in a six foot hole
You've pushed me far too long

Here's my blade
Watch it sway
My only escape when everything feels the same

Even I could take away the pain
I feel like you're to blame
Even I could take away this shame
Now I won't even say your name

Who is the person in the mirror?
I never thought I would
Become the man I am now
Lies!
Shelter the wounds inside
Anxiety fills my heart

Here I drink
On the brink
Of losing my mind all over the wall

Even I could take away the pain
I feel like you're to blame
Even I could take away this shame
Now I won't even say your name

Fuck the world!

Even I could take away the pain
I feel like you're to blame
Even I could take away this shame
Now I won't even say your name

I want you to tear me of suffering from a fucking disease
I am plaguing my mind
I'm nowhere to be found
I want you to tear me

I'm nowhere to be found
