

Latent Perception

Before I Turn

The demon knocks and he screams my name
"Open the door and meet your fate"
The wood breaks and my heart does too
An evil presence passes through me
I'm losing all perception
I lost my fucking mind
I let the tears fall out
And swallow what's left of my pride

With a knife in my hand, my heart will be crossed

With a knife in my hand, my heart will be crossed
An evil heretic will find his life lost
Your name on my wrist, I start to emboss
Always and forever, my love will be dossed

Fiend, you fiend, you took away from me
My love, my life, my pride, you took away my everything
Watch, as now you'll see the crimson flood
Let's see you laugh with a mouth full of blood
Laugh as you die, I'll laugh as you die
Your blood, as it froths, it stings in my eye
I thrust and I thrust but still you're not dead
I can't stop the madness that dwells in my head

With a knife in my hand, my heart will be crossed
An evil heretic will find his life lost
Your name on my wrist, I start to emboss
Always and forever, my love will be dossed
With a knife in my hand, my heart will be crossed
An evil heretic will find his life lost
Your name on my wrist, I start to emboss
Always and forever, my love will be dossed

Revenge tastes just like deficiency
My perception acts with latency
Who did I kill, who did I kill?
Forgive myself? I never fucking will
