

I feel my eyesight giving away
As the water carries me
From the shore out to the sea
From the shore out to the sea
And I'm thinking I've been alone now
I'm buried up to my fucking neck in grief
But I always think there's something left to see
I can't protect her 'cause her blood is up to my fucking knees
Why do I feel like there's always something left to see?
(Why do I feel like there's always something left to see?)

She screams a lullaby that pierces through my ears
That wipes away all the memory that wallows inside my tears
Just like the orchid blooms to die alone in heartache
A memory fades to blackness
And I'm not sure how much more I can take
She screams a lullaby that pierces through my ears
That wipes away all the memory that wallows inside my tears
Just like the orchid blooms to die alone in heartache
I'm not sure how much more I can take

I was a king who lost his throne
I have sinned but not atoned
'Cause I feel the way I did when I was
Lovelorn and alone

Maybe this only hurts because you need me
To be the monster in your silent ending
I will take you away
I will take you away
I will take you away

I was a king who lost his throne
I have sinned but not atoned
'Cause I feel the way I did when I was
Lovelorn and alone
I can't find the answers of my broken misery
And I feel the fucking same because I'm
Lovelorn and alone

Why do I feel like there's always something left to see?
