

Only To Fall

Before I Turn

We're kept apart by a schism of ancestral past
I want to keep believing that our love can still last
Our fathers lust for blood but I lust for your purity
I'm barely breathing but they bring out the worst in me
Lost in passion, lost in lust
We're lost in feelings of disgust
Take the love right from my eyes
Will they see through our disguise?

I have waited my entire life to be
Free from mercy, take my oppression
Enter slowly (slowly), don't be afraid
The love we made is the price that we pay

Discourse of my sensation that's flowing through my blood
Let's join the angels' choir and sing the songs of love
A funeral for malice, its epitaph will say
"Here lies the brokenhearted who prayed for better days"

Two souls are suspended off the ground
Only to fall, only to fall
Two souls are suspended off the ground
Only to fall, only to fall in love

Place me under the altar
Of your poisonous love
One life to end all the others
Fallen through the cracks that have led me to hell
I hold dear the penance of life
Cursed with the lorn of immortality
We are all risen from the ground
Only to fall, only to fall
