

Sepulcher

Before I Turn

She lies within in her sepulcher of loneliness
Her dying wish just a fragment of hope
I gaze across the grave site of her family
To see her tomb and I'm starting to choke

Is she dead, is she dead? I'm imagining
I see red, I see red; this is tragedy
Count the seconds till you're choking on your agony
She never cared cause your love is just a fallacy

Skin cold, eyes closed shut forever
Ever and after
Skin cold, eyes closed shut forever
Ever and after

With arms wide, our love in time
Will feel alive once again
With eyes closed and by the tide
I feel alive once again

Balance, a thing to remember
Pushing me and pulling you to even the odds
We have never been synchronized to each other
And therefore we fall

Earning your love, it is a constant endeavor
Yearning for more because it's never enough
I can't think, I could never remember
A time that I've felt that your love is enough

With arms wide, our love in time
Will feel alive once again
With eyes closed and by the tide
I feel alive once again

Skin cold, eyes closed shut forever
Ever and after
Skin cold, eyes closed shut forever
Ever and after

With arms wide, our love in time
(Skin cold, eyes closed shut forever)
Will feel alive once again
(Ever and after)
With eyes closed and by the tide
(Skin cold, eyes closed shut forever)
I feel alive once again
(Ever and after)
(With arms wide, our love in time)
Earning your love, it is a constant endeavor
Yearning for more because it's never enough
(I feel alive once again)
I can't think, I could never remember
A time that I felt that your love is enough
(With arms wide, our love in time)
Earning your love, it is a constant endeavor
Yearning for more because it's never enough

(I feel alive once again)
I can't think, I could never remember
A time that I felt that your love is enough

Eyes closed tight
I'll just pretend you're dreaming forever
Oh, oh, oh
