

Stella

Before I Turn

Hanging by the neck
Suspended by the throat
The world I picture's better

But I'm choking on the rope
There's nothing you can say
To save me from despair
So don't come in till morning
And let me kick this chair

Fuck!

Nobody knows me
They'll just know that I'm dead
They'll know the sick thoughts that plagued my head
I'll write it in a letter
But no one else will see
But my mother and my father while they're begging on their knees

Please God, not my daughter!
She was just fifteen
Not your child to slaughter
Mother of God, open your eyes!
Don't leave me darling
Come back to the light!

Love me, somebody!
Love me, somebody!
Please, fuck!

Nobody knows me
They'll just know that I'm dead
They'll know the sick thoughts that fucked with my head

Love me, somebody!
Love me, somebody!
Please, fuck!

Hanging by the neck
Suspended by the throat
The world I picture's better, but I'm choking on the rope
There's nothing you can say
To save me from despair
So don't come in till morning and let me kick this chair

Please God, not my daughter!
She was just fifteen
Not your child to slaughter
Mother of God, open your eyes!
Don't leave me darling
Come back to the light!
