

Destination

Before the Dawn

To go astray
Once foothold taken away
The bedrock beneath
My solid ground below the feet

Lead the way from the void
Point the direction ahead
Light the path from above
Irradiate the trailhead
Pierce the cold through the dusk
The spark of a beacon
Footmarks on the cold white ground
Only thing that follows behind

Towards evenfall
Further from the light
Destination in the dark
Into the stark
Unrelenting night
Destination in the dark

Navigate the way
With a stellar aid
The sphere, map of stars
Cold spark as beacon through the dusk

Forwards
Charge through the woods
Break through the ice
Shatter the frozen pillars of woodland

Frontwards
Ram through the glaciers
Break through the pitch-black night
Shatter the frozen realm of woodland

Towards evenfall
Further from the light
Destination in the dark
Into the stark
Unrelenting night
Destination in the dark

Towards evenfall
Further from the light
Destination in the dark
Into the stark
Unrelenting night
Destination in the dark