

Fatal Design

Before the Dawn

In sphere of vision
The end of line
When days ahead are numbered
The final call
Before expiration date
The time has come to drop the hammer
Resilience
Pushed to the maximum
A peak of persistence
With full force
Gather all remaining strength
Burn out before fading away

To the great unknown
Life is fiercely racing
Gone with the gale
With the storm
Future is no more
Only grand conclusion
Then all turns to dust

Last call for action
Condition terminal
No hesitation, no delay to act
Fatal design
Condition untreatable
Countdown downwards since we've been born
It's in our blood
Inside our DNA
We were never meant to last forever
Like a flood
A surge of raw power
I will soar, I will ascend

To the great unknown
Life is fiercely racing
Gone with the gale
With the storm
Future is no more
Only grand conclusion
Then all turns to dust
