

The Dark

Before the Dawn

Furthermost shore
At the edge of the world
In the fringe of the north
Cold stone beaten by the waters
Worn by the waves

Into the sea
Leads the primordial path
Into the dark
The ancient deep where the light cannot reach

Waiting for the tide
Force to call forth the flood
Waiting at the waterside
The moon to push the ocean forward

The ocean floor
Abyssal plain
Leads to the trench
Deepest chasm of the world

From the dawn of the time
Pressure fathomless and profound
Unviable and hostile
The overwhelming deep where the light cannot reach

Waiting for the tide
Force to call forth the flood
Waiting at the waterside
The moon to push the ocean forward

Waiting for the tide
Force to call forth the flood
Waiting at the waterside
The moon to push the ocean forward
