

Sometimes Forever Means Never

Behind Crimson Eyes

You never, would take no for an answer
Your smile like cancer
I'm always, there for you but
You only ever take what's mine

Was there something I said
That could make you feel this way
And make me feel like my world's not turning
Is there something I should do
Should I stay the fuck away from you
You're breaking away

Leave today, take with you
Every memory along with every
Mistake I, made for you
It's all over, our lives have torn in two

Why do you care?
I don't understand
I can't justify all those lies
I can't go on living this way
It's not a game... and I'm not ok.
