

Purest Love

Being As An Ocean

You're hurting again
Nerves on fire, the ache in your head
All your stretching ligaments
Pulled like the tightest thread
The pain won't relent
All of your desire commands joints of cement
You long for sunshine
But it's a fight to rise from bed
You'll fucking fight it
Find the strength hidden in that chest
Heart of a lion, grant her rest

We're so much more than all the pain that we don't show
Our bodies broken and our spirits have been misused
I know you're scared, I am too
But my heart is stronger with you
We're so much more than all the pain that we go through
Oh, how I wish I had relief to give to you
Oh, how I wish I had relief to give to you

She pushes on, she digs down deep
Won't be bound by the symptoms of some disease
Warrior and queen
Tough, delicate, a rose
Willful, elegant, my home
Mountain spring
Purest love I've known
(Purest love I've known)

She pushes on, she digs down deep
Way too determined to taste defeat
Warrior and queen
Doesn't know "back down", won't retreat
Tough, delicate, a rose
Willful, elegant, my home
Mountain spring
Purest love I've known
What a dream it is, to call you my own

We're so much more than all the pain that we don't show
Our bodies broken and our spirits have been misused
I know you're scared, I am too
But my heart is stronger with you
We're so much more than all the pain that we go through
Oh, how I wish I had relief to give you
Oh, how I wish I had relief to give you

Hate seeing you struggle
I fucking hate feeling helpless

We're so much more than all the pain that we don't show
Our bodies broken and our spirits have been misused
I know you're scared, I am too
But my heart is stronger with you
God I swear I would take it, every ounce of the pain
If I were given the power, my love, I'd take your place

Hate seeing you struggle
I fucking hate feeling helpless
