Send me now, the winter's over
A light turns out and we are older
The love we've had will turn all over Going south and we are older

On the one time I told you also
On a night like this you all turn around no but I, I won't have you anymore no and I, I can't have you anymore

And some days we're all alone on the banks of the Rhine
And some days all we have was worth while
And some sing dreams of spears chosen once in life
And some days we're all alone on the banks of the Rhine
