Intravenous

Send me a message Escort me through the passage Into the dark side of life Let me slip, slip, slip into the eternity I sense a light, a cave so bright A cave so bright

Oh, what a trauma Release me from this coma Why won't they let me escape? Drip, drip, intravenous emergency And so in vain The heal the stains and wounds on my body

So torn apart and bloody I do not wish to return I don't wanna be one of the crippled ones Do hear my prayer, don't fade away, don't fade away

Send me a message Escort me through the passage All I need is a sign Skip, skip, skip over this emergency Forgive my sins, don't force me in To live like a phantom Still, this is nothing random

I'm meant to suffer and wait But one minute more and it might be too late So give a sign, I'm losing time Bel Canto
