It was part of our experiment Went you said go and I went Like a gooseberry on Noah's ark

I watched them file in two by two
And I set sail without you
And we were carried on the flood of your tears

Time pulls a face when I'm next to you Let's hope the wind changes
Time pulled a face when I'm next to you Let's hope the wind changes

Now I'm looking for dry land As all this crying subsides But I'm like Columbus in India

I'm a little all over the shop Like those souvenirs from Knock That come all the way from China

Time pulls a face when I'm next to you Let's hope the wind changes
Time pulled a face when I'm next to you Let's hope the wind changes

'Cos we'd be stuck in this place
For an age or two
I hope the wind changes
And the vacuum in space will draw me to you
I hope the wind changes
