Been on that journey, so I know
You won't survive out on your own
In me, you'll always find a home
A home, home (Home, home)
I'll never turn my back
On you, you, you, you, you, you
Turn my back on you (Home, home)
I'll never turn my back
On you, you, you, you, you, you (You, you, you, you)
Turn my back on you (Home, home)

Never say much, but I got a question
When you see me, do you see a blessin'?
Can't be the only one that's invested
'Cause what you say don't match your expressions
Know I don't keep it above the surface
Scared of commitment, I know you're nervous
I need someone who's real
Don't need someone who's perfect
'Cause I'm far from it
But I still deserve it, yeah
(Still deserve it if I want)
So if you're down, let me know (Down, know)
And we can build something, oh

Been on that journey, so I know (So I know)
You won't survive out on your own (Out on your own)
In me, you'll always find a home (Ah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, y eah, yeah)
A home, home (Home, home)
I'll never turn my back
On you, you, you, you, you, you
Turn my back on you (Home, home)
I'll never turn my back
On you, you, you, you, you, you
Turn my back on you (Home, home)
