

Blue Rodeo

Bellamy Brothers

I pulled up to the stockyards, runnin' low on self esteem

My body and my heart broken in two Well this lifestyle of mine has lost the girl of my dreams

I'm just a bronc bustin' fool, now he's holding you

It's gonna be a blue rodeo

And I'll be turning green within there don't ya know
The moon may be silver and the sun could be gold
But it's gonna be a blue rodeo

Blue rodeo

It makes a cowboy wonder is it worth the hurt
Another town another bull to blame
While he's in your arms tonight I'll be eating dirt
Holdin' back the tears from two kinds of pain
It's gonna be a blue rodeo

But it's gonna be a blue rodeo
Blue rodeo

In every little cafe they play a song about us
A pretty girl who wanted more and the drifter's wonderlust

But it's gonna be a blue rodeo
Blue rodeo

It's gonna be a blue rodeo
