

Givin' Into Love Again

Bellamy Brothers

I made myself a solemn promise
You made me tell myself a lie
When into my life you came
And let your sunshine through my rain
And help me put a rainbow in my sky

Givin' into love again
Trying one more time to win
I guess the game of fools will never end

Givin' into love again
With what love I got left to lend
I'll give my broken heart
Another chance to mend

I'll try to face it with an open mind
And leave a little freedom in the tie that binds
And give it an open rein
'Cause love's not meant to tame
Just like life it's only passin' by

Givin' into love again
Trying one more time to win
I guess the game of fools will never end

Givin' into love again
With what love I got left to lend
I'll give my broken heart
Another chance to mend

Love can take you by surprise
You never know just where love lies
Down the road or just around the bend

Love will look you in the eyes
And stay until the last goodbye
It can come and go just like the wind

Givin' into love again
Trying one more time to win
I guess the game of fools will never end

Givin' into love again
With what love I got left to lend
I'll give my broken heart
Another chance to mend
