

How Can You Be Everywhere At The Same Time

Bellamy Brothers

I left town the same night and you left me.
I didn't hang around cause I didn't want to see.
Another man standin' in my place the smile that he brought to your face.
How was I to know, you'd be everywhere I'd ever go.

Chorus:

Tell me, how can you be everywhere at the same time.
It seems to me you've disappeared, somewhere along the line.
Since you broke my heart, you been playin' with my mind.
How can you be everywhere at the same time.

I seen you in the movies, I seen you in the park.
I seen you in the airport, even in my old car.
In every book and magazine, from here to there and in between.
Where I least expect it to, I ran right smack into you.

Chorus:

Tell me, how can you be everywhere at the same time.
It seems to me you've disappeared, somewhere along the
line.
Since you broke my heart you been playin' with my mind.
How can you be everywhere...

Bridge:

I can't seem to break the spell you cast on me.
If you don't want my love, why don't you set me free.
Or at the very least...

Chorus:

Tell me, how can you be everywhere at the same time.
It seems to me you've disappeared somewhere along the
line.
Since you broke my heart, you been playin' with my mind.
How can you be everywhere at the same time.
How can you be everywhere at the same time.
