

Let Fantasy Live

Bellamy Brothers

There's a cat in a hat that isn't there;
Flowers in the garden disappear in thin air.
Oh, oh, let fantasy live

There's colors in the sky that aren't all blue
There's a red and a yellow and a green one too
Oh, oh, let fantasy live

Now fantasy lives as well as reality
But sometimes they don't get along
'cause being real is such a triviality
While fantasizing won't let you go wrong

There's a lover in your bed 'most every night
She's really in your head but that's all right
Oh, oh, let fantasy live

There's a star in the night that'll never die
As long as me and you have a twinkle in our eye
Oh, oh, let fantasy live

Now fantasy lives as well as reality
But sometimes they don't get along
'cause being real is such a triviality
While fantasizing won't let you go wrong, wrong

There's a butterfly walking in a tightrope act
While a bear in the swimming pool floates on his back
Oh, oh, let fantasy live

There's a cat in a hat.
Oh, oh, let fantasy live
There's corlors in the sky.
Oh, oh, let fantasy live
There's a lover in your bed.
Oh, oh, let fantasy live
There's a star in the night.
Oh, oh, let fantasy live
There's a butterfly walking.
Oh, oh, let fantasy live
