

I do regret we've been there
I find it hard to remember
My heads doing a good job
Of erasing unwanted memory
Try not to regret a thing
Oh so be bold and be brave and be strong
And learn from all that goes down when it goes wrong
Be bold and be brave and move on
Sweet child make your own
You know it's better that way
Wait for your free ride
Well someone's always got to pay
Sweet child make your own
You know it's better that way
Wait for your free ride
Well someone's always got to pay
Bend it to the positive most of the time
It feels far away too deep under
When I'm bored of it and aching for a change
Biding my time for brand new adventure
Just like my first pair of boots I bought in Boston
Had to change my walk when I got them
Found out some boots aren't just make for walking
'Cause these were made for stomping
Sweet child make your own
You know it's better that way
Wait for your free ride
Well someone's always got to pay
Sweet child make your own
You know it's better that way
Wait for your free ride
Well someone's always got to pay
I do regret we've been there
I find it hard to remember
My heads doing a good job
Of erasing unwanted memory
Try not to regret a thing
Oh so be bold and be brave and be strong
And learn from all that goes down when it goes wrong
Be bold and be brave and be strong and move on
Sweet child make your own
You know it's better that way
Wait for your free ride
Well someone's always got to pay
Sweet child make your own
You know it's better that way
Wait for your free ride
Well someone's always got to pay
