

Point:A

Belligerence

Let them show you
What fight for
Let them show you
What you want
Let them tell you
What you feel
Let them tell you
Who's your master

I said to myself - I'm dreaming about something
What never takes me to the place
And it is every time I cry
For some faith
Every time they see me and take me to that place
And it is every time I die
But from today
Everytime they see me so they take me to that place
Where
It will be just little while and noone can trust himself

Let them show you
What fight for
Let them show you
What is wrong
Let them tell you
Who says true
Let them tell you
What they wanted

Let them show you
What you want
Let them tell you
What you feel
Who likes you
Let them tell you
As they want
