

Stars Align

Belly

Just for tonight, let's not talk about you and me
And all in between
Just for tonight, let's not talk about you and me
And all in between
Just let me tell you about the dream I had
A swath of black run down your back
You take to the street
You're gonna give someone a heart-attack

I could tell you it's all gonna be alright
Stars will align, hearts unite
The lamb will lie with the lion
I could say we're gonna be fine someday
And it might not be a lie

Superman, give it a rest
You've got a good head on your shoulders
And a storm in your chest

Superman, watch who you save
Take care with whom you fly away
You are who you save
A swath of black run down your back
You take to the sky
You're gonna give me a heart-attack

I could tell you it's all gonna be alright
Stars will align, hearts unite
The lamb will lie with the lion
I could say we're gonna be fine someday
And it might not be a lie

Hearts unite and stars align
The lamb will lie
And the lion won't bite

I could tell you it's all gonna be alright
And it might not be a lie
