Belmont

I've been living real fast
Living everyday like it could just be my last
Cause I know
Everything you think you put in the past
Always finds a way to come around and kick you in the ass
But that's cool

I can see
That everybody talks, everybody talks like they know
Best for me
Like anybody lives, anybody lives happily

I won't fade out

My life's disguised
As a gift I'm handed that I try to hide
When all along I've just been told to swallow pride
I'm sick of doing this on my own
I'll be fine
I just want to find my home

I'll fortify
Every wall I built around me
I won't apologize
I'm just building myself up to the ceiling

I won't break out
I'll face myself

My life's disguised
As a gift I'm handed that I try to hide
When all along I've just been told to swallow pride
I'm sick of doing this on my own
I'll be fine
I just want to find my home

Take a real good look inside
Exposing all the thoughts you hide
Take a real good look inside
And tell me everything you find
And if you're really satisfied

Take a real good look inside
Exposing all the thoughts you hide
Take a real good look inside
And tell me everything you find
And if you're really satisfied

My life's disguised
As a gift I'm handed that I try to hide
When all along I've just been told to swallow pride
I'm sick of doing this on my own
I'll be fine
I just want to find my home
