

Solitude

Belmont

I never thought I'd be the one
To hold myself in place
But I've been sinking lower in my own distaste
And I still wonder if you'll ever find and dig up my grave
Or if I'm buried in the hopes I'll rot away

I tried my best to move along with you
But you never tried to follow through
Gave up and spent my time in solitude
Alone with no peace of mind
(You took my piece of mind)

I did my best to admit I'm wrong
Took the blame for far too long
While you're stuck inside your head
I've been stuck inside my bed
I feel like I'm losing ground
Climbing up to just fall down

I tried my best to move along with you
But you never tried to follow through
Gave up and spent my time in solitude
Alone with no peace of mind

I'm just a placeholder, nothing to care over
I'm just a dot on the map
I'm just a placeholder, nothing to care over
I'm just a dot on the map
