Brandy Wine

Finally I see your plan and Now I've come to understand You shoulda have told me I'd be 32 And that was all so long ago, Maybe about a week or so If 34 you're holding only knew

Fall back start over, Let all the negativity subside Bad night hung over And everything you said Hanging on me I can't replace the thought of you, Sitting there just like you do and Now you're sitting close With someone else, I figured out some time ago Regardless of the things I know, I'm over it as far as I can tell

Fall back start over, Let all the negativity subside Bad night hang over And everything you said hanging on me Had your chance, Your time has passed This time I'm not so blinded Belvedere
