

Runaway

Ben Abraham

What did it feel like way back in the beginning
Starting a new life?
After the landslide and all the separating
I try so hard to remember it right

Faith, I let you down
I lost my way and put your body in the ground
And now my heart is full of doubt
I'm just a runaway trying to work it out

You must believe me I never meant to do it
I was so sure of the way I stood
Defying gravity until I fell into it
And now I know I would change it all if I could

Faith, I let you down
I lost my way and put your body in the ground
And now my heart is full of doubt
I'm just a runaway trying to work it out

Faith, I let you down
And now my heart is full of doubt

Have you left your body?
Have you lost control
When you're on the run
And you've become a restless soul?
Have you left your body?
Have you lost control
When you're on the run
And you've become a restless soul?

Faith, I let you down
(Have you left your body?
Have you lost control
When you're on the run
And you've become a restless soul?)
And now my heart is full of doubt
(Have you left your body?
Have you lost control
When you're on the run
And you've become a restless soul?)

I let you down

I'm just a runaway
I'm just a runaway
I'm a runaway
