

Second Hand Heart

Ben Haenow

C

The light of the morning

F

Finds you sleeping in my bed

G

And it's not like the stories

It's never like what they said

I know who you want me to be

But I'm just not there yet

Yeah, the broken road's always been home

And it's so hard to forget

Ami

Wait for me now

Ami

G

Will you wait for me now?

I might think too much

Drink too much, stay out too late

F

I know I'm just a fool, but I swear I can change

I can't steal you the stars

But I can give you this second hand heart

All your friends think I'm hopeless

They don't understand

That this imperfect love can start over again

It's been broken apart

Will you still take my second hand heart?

Yeah, the light of the morning

Finds you sleeping in my bed

And it's not like the stories

It's never like what they said

And I know who you want me to be

But I'm just not there yet

Yeah, the broken road's always been home

And it's so hard to forget

I might think too much

Drink too much, stay out too late

I know I'm just a fool, but I swear I can change

I can't steal you the stars

But I can give you this second hand heart

All your friends think I'm hopeless

They don't understand

That this imperfect love can start over again

It's been broken apart

Will you still take my second hand heart?

If you let me show you, I could love you the same

And I can't steal you the stars
But I can try every day
Oh, you know they'll never tear us apart
And I'm just a fool, but I swear I can change
I can't steal you the stars
But I can try every day
And you know, you've got my second hand heart

You might think too much
Drink too much, stay out too late
I know you've been a fool
But I swear you can change
I can't steal you the stars
But I can give you this second hand heart
All your friends think I'm hopeless
They don't understand
That this imperfect love can start over again
It's been broken apart
Will you still take my second hand heart?

And I'm just a fool, but I swear I can change
And I can't steal you the stars
But I can try every day
Oh, you know, you've got my second hand heart
And I'm just a fool, but I swear I can change
And I can't steal you the stars
But I can try every day
Oh, you know, you've got my second hand heart
