

Evergreen

Ben Howard

Christmas flair amongst the somewhere cold deep evergreen
Built a world without your love and heartbeat in me
Christmas flair amongst the somewhere cold deep evergreen
Built a world without your love, I want more love?

Take me back through the catacombs, I am tempted by the love
Blue stars against my only skin, I have never been so cold
Looking around I see memories, what it was, oh, what it was There in the crowds you said something but I can't remember what

And my mother cursed the town for closing me down
closing me down

Take me back through the catacombs, I am tempted by the love
Blue stars against my only skin, I have never been so cold
Looking around I see memories, what it was, oh, what it was There in the lights you said something but I can't remember what

And my mother cursed the town for closing me down
closing me down
