Oh gypsy rose I will wait for your sun to shine Now youve got me goin somewhere no one could find All in my life its the world that makes me cry Oh summer day go back home Give your body away Milky arms and legs wrap around this neglected frame And the world will make you cry Yea the world wont tell you why But this world wont make you die Cuz I loved you right Oh gypsy rose You got me swallowed up in your streets Bring your food, money, shoes Just to lie here with you beneath your sheets I see hope in your eyes Its the world that makes you cry Rose I got no friends I got no kids and I dont got kin My one salvation is the warmth of your skin And this world will make you cry Yea the world will make you lie Oh the world will suck you dry Oh but I love you right Oh summer day go back home Give your body away And when I wake Youll have saved my life
