Wishing Well

Ben Moody

Sinking and suffocating
The walls are crumbling from within me

Some thing's left best unspoken
And still this truth has broken me
I can't believe it's true
No one to blame but you

Fate less and feeling lonely
No tears for this, I'll only cry
To someone else, the lie
That there's no one else

A story only time will tell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well
Living as a ghost in my own hell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well

Enforce the years of hatred
For everything I know to be
The part of me

To many prayers unanswered
To many questions seen as sin
Just quietly give in
Well I never will again

A story only time will tell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well
Living as a ghost in my own hell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well

Just quietly give in
Well I never will again

A story only time will tell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well
Living as a ghost in my own hell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well

A story only time will tell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well
Living as a ghost in my own hell
I'm trapped inside a wishing well
