

Even Pace

Ben Weasel

Think death, (something)
Think fast, they say it won't last, for either you and me.

I don't want to (something)
Don't want to (something)

I will walk an even pace,
I will not compete against,
Friends and enemies, and those who might feel indifferent,
I will walk an even pace.

Each step is turning away from what I used to be.
Don't know where I will go, but the roads lead back to me.

I don't want to (something)
Don't want to (something)
Don't want (something)
Don't want (something)
Don't want to sink like you, I gave the world, the world I'm missing.

I will walk an even pace,
I will not compete against,
Friends and enemies, and those who might feel indifferent,
I will walk an even pace.

I will walk an even pace. [repeated]
(I will walk along)
