Benchés

Just let me skip but one episode
And maybe we can see
'Bout what else is on
But no, I don't really care
No, I don't really care
It's over-thought, yeah, the things we do
What you thought was done
Was done two months ago
But no, I don't really care
No, I don't really care

Now usually, I'd seem a little ticked off, yeah
Now usually, I'd seem more unimpressed

There's always a fire in my bedroom
When you walk in, oh
Don't believe what's on TV
It's always the same show, too
Believe me, it's obsession, oh
You watch way too much TV

12 years old, you were all alone
You had nothing to do
So you turned on the tube
And look where that got you
It's all your fault
I realized I lost you to the screen
On the loveseat, back in '17

What's the point in a world of laze?
How could I care when you don't give a shit?

There's always a fire in my bedroom
When you walk in, oh
Don't believe what's on TV
It's always the same show, too
Believe me, it's obsession, oh
You watch way too much TV

There's always a fire, there's always a fire
There's always a fire on TV
There's always a fire, there's always a fire
There's always a fire on TV
