everything

Benjamin Amaru

Everything goes
Everything stays
What does it matter
How can I say
Things you said
You spelled my name
Everything gone
Everything fades
Somebody's hand
Somebody's smell
Everything moved
Every cell
Anyone tell me
Anyone can't
Cause only you could

What nobody can
Nobody wants
And they tell me
Whatever they want
But no, not you
You were there
When I was lost
And nobody cared
Somebody's eyes
Somebody's lips
Everything moved
Whenever we kissed
Every now
And every then

Sometimes I hear myself
Saying you were everything
You were everything
The voices in my head
They're saying you were everything
They're saying you were everything

Sometimes I hear myself
I'm screaming you were everything
You were everything
The voices in my head
They're screaming you were everything
You were everything

Everything started
Everything ended
I couldn't hold you
I was pretending
It was stupid
When it ended
I couldn't hold you
Missing my chances
Wish you were here
Hope you are safe
I see you with somebody else
Anyone tell me

Anyone can't
Cause it was my fault

Whatever I did
Whatever I said
I never meant to
Hurt my friend
My dear lover
Saviour, damn
Every version
Every name
Everything was Everything seems
I can't change the way it is
I hope you're well
I really do cause

Sometimes I hear myself
Saying you were everything
You were everything
The voices in my head
They're saying you were everything
You were everything

Sometimes I hear myself
I'm screaming you were everything
You were everything
The voices in my head
They're screaming you were everything
You were everything

Screaming you were everything
You were everything
Screaming you were everything
You were everything
Screaming you were everything
You were everything
Screaming you were everything
You were everything
