

Jenny (A COLORS ENCORE)

Benjamin Amaru

Jenny is a cute girl she lives in a mansion
Walking with a big purse trying to get attention
And everybody loves her
Everybody mentions
Jenny in their stories whenever they go dancing
Met her at a club at a Saturday night out
"Jenny take a drink with me, you're looking hot."
Then she turns around
Shows me her smile
"Boys like you just ain't my type."

But I can feel the heat

Oh Jenny won't you get down
With me
Yeah
And I can feel the heat love
Jenny won't you get down
With me
Down, down with me

Went home alone with a really good feeling
I knew there was a fire and I knew she could feel it
But Jenny's too good
Way up high
What are the rules for a cold [??]
So I waited and waited
From Monday to Friday
Said the days coming and you'll know where to find me
I was at the club
Jenny came in
Looking my way and I invited her for drinks and she said
"Come close I had a really fun night
But to be honest you're still not my type."

I still feel the heat

Oh Jenny won't you get down
With me
Yeah
And I can feel the heat love
Jenny won't you get down
With me
Down, down with me

Was about to leave
Saw a girl at the exit
She was all alone
Had looked a little extra
I thought "Why not?
I should give it a try."
She showed me her smile and I said "Hi."

Can you feel the heat?

Oh Somebody is getting down, down with me
Down with me

And I can feel the heat love
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know you will get down, down with me
Down, down with me

Get down, get down, no
Get down, get down with me love
Get down, get down, no
Get down, get down with me love
Get down, get down
We getting down, down, down, down, down, down
Get down, get down
Get down
Get down with me to night
