

Talking To The Sun

Benjamin Amaru

Oh what a sight
And for the first time
I can see the sky
And no skylines known
So nice it made me cry
And I saw the sunrise
Right before my eyes
I saw the sun rise up

Oh what a sight, oh
Everything seem all right
The sun she got me moving
Got me dancing in the wild
Now I think it's time
And she starts to talk
And she said
Friend, you are gonna be just fine though
You don't worry anymore
Worries only brake your flow
From the outside to the cold
Tears they come and they go
There is light and there I know
Sometimes it's hard to know
But one thing is for sure
The world is mine
And sky's my own own own

I have nowhere to go
And I know for sure
Never ever have I felt
What I'm feeling when it's warm then
I take one sip
One minute one zip she
She's blessed and the heat
I'm laying down know that I'm tipsy

Oh what a sight, oh
Everything seem all right
The sun she got me moving
Got me dancing in the wild
Now I think it's time
And she starts to talk
And she said
Friend, you are gonna be just fine though
You don't worry anymore
Worries only brake your flow
From the outside to the cold
Tears they come and they go
There is light and there I know
And sky's my own own own own...

Oh what a sight
For the first time

And no skylines known
So nice it made me cry
I saw the sunrise
Right before my eyes
Then I never wanna leave this...
