

Mayflies

Benjamin Francis Leftwich

wide awake colors start to run giving in, like I'm staring at the sun bending up, 'cause you're say that you love me but I know, there is a life I'm giving up in another life the mayflies will take over the sky
another one, away from here
I don't wanna talk about it, afraid of what I'm gonna do
I don't wanna let your light in, I've got enough to lose
I don't wanna say something, afraid I am gonna make it true lying in the pieces, I've got enough to lose I've got enough to lose

still awake,
nothing seems to shine
for better days
I know what you leave behind you're making me choose, but I can't lie maybe we're in love, in another time

in another life the mayflies will take over the sky

another one, away from here
I don't wanna talk about it, afraid of what I'm gonna do
I don't wanna let your light in, I've got enough to lose
I don't wanna say something, afraid I am gonna make it true
lying in the pieces, I've got enough to lose
I've got enough to lose
got enough to lose

I don't wanna talk about it, afraid of what I'm gonna do
I don't wanna let your light in, I've got enough to lose
I don't wanna say something, afraid I am gonna make it true
lying in the pieces, I've got enough to lose
I've got enough to lose
I've got enough to lose
I've got enough to lose
I've got enough to lose
I've got enough to lose