

Didn't know what I had found
Rosheen when you called
Didn't know what I know now
I was young and in love, too blind to see
That everything I wanted was right in front of me

I was cruel and you were kind
What was good I couldn't find
You were patient, I was blind
To a love I left behind

When I'm thinking of you now
Is it kids and a house?
Do I really wanna know how
Your days played out
From your messages I keep
All your melodies repeat
I still don't understand now

I was cruel and you were kind
What was good I couldn't find
You were patient, I was blind
To a love I left behind
I was foolish you were kind
I got lost in my own mind
You were patient, I was blind
To a love I left behind
