

Seattle Waltz

Benjamin Francis Leftwich

So, I understand it
Filling the space, it's a lonely planet
I don't deny that your love has got legs
But the film on repeat in the back of my head
Makes me slow to understand it

I don't blame you for taking a shot at loving a lot
I would do the same I get what you lost, we are sharing the cost
I know no one wants to be on their own
Is your beautiful house still a beautiful home?
Is filling the space any better than living alone?

I know the days are not what you were hoping

I see your tears drop into the ocean
Well it's better than nothing you say
Who's gonna shovel the snow anyway?
I know you deal with coping

I don't blame you for taking a shot at loving a lot
I would do the same I get what you lost, we are sharing the cost
I know no one wants to be on their own
But I share his blood we can speak on the phone
Is filling the space any better than living alone?

And so, I understand it
