

Lifetime Of Work

Benjamin Tod

I've found a new way to love
It helps wearing gloves and a good pair of boots
And I vow to never give up
It ain't in my blood to remain out of use

And there's a lifetime of work to do
And we all depend on the mending of you
Stay brave in your toil you lucky old fool
There's a lifetime of work to do

And I'm free wherever I am
As long as my hands carry too much to hold
And you keep me on the line
And I'll be on time 'til my body is cold

And there's a lifetime of work to do
And we all depend on the mending of you
Stay brave in your toil you lucky old fool
There's a lifetime of work to do

Can you make way for the coming of day to behold?
And are you prepared for the evil that stares from the folds?
And can you stay level, plane out the bevel
And finish it flush with your soul?
And how the world needs to know

And there's a lifetime of work to do
And we all depend on the mending of you
Stay brave in your toil you lucky old fool
There's a lifetime of work
There's a lifetime of work
There's a lifetime of work to do
