

Nothing More

Benjamin Tod

Girl I've been watching the stars to deliver me calm
Desperately praying for signs to answer my call
Somewhere in the back of my mind I know you are gone
The evidence stacked against me like a heavenly hall

Would you believe that I'm nothing more than a man
I've only deceived the fool in the mirror again
I try to be more but the Lord forces my hand
Would you believe that I'm nothing more than a man

I try to move mountains in spite of my delicate skin
It's like changing your mind when you decided the end
I've got no more credit with God cause I'm bankrupt as sin
The title I go by is lost without ears to lend

Would you believe that I'm nothing more than a man
I've only deceived the fool in the mirror again
I try to be more but the Lord forces my hand
Would you believe that I'm nothing more than a man
