

Enough!?

Benjamin William Hastings

Ah, can you go back like twenty seconds?

Ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh

Ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh

My dad grew up to the sound of guns, they shook his windows every night

Forty years and just a few miles off, I slept to a bird song in the sky

If you can change the course of Ireland, you can change the minds of anyone

So tell me when

When will enough be enough?

There's some memories you'd never sell and some you shouldn't have to own

Like blurs of unrequited hands on nights of uninvited drugs

I shouldn't have to warn my daughter of what violence lies inside your sons

So tell me when

When will enough be enough? (When will enough be enough?)

I said when (When will enough)

When will enough be enough? (When will enough be enough?)

Ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh

Well, I woke up to the sound of guns and there were riots in the street

Oh, there's a world between who we are now and the one we wanna be

You shouldn't have to fight to matter, surely we can all agree that much

So tell me when (When will enough)

When will enough be enough? (When will enough be enough?)

I said when (When will enough)

When will enough be enough? (When will enough be enough?)

I'm not gonna wait for the tide to change

Only takes a drop for the dam to break

Tell me when, when will enough be enough?

Ooh-ooh, I'm not gonna wait for the tide to change

Only takes a drop for the dam to break

Tell me when, when will enough be enough?

Oh-oh, I'm not gonna wait, there's a tide to change

If it only takes a drop and the dam will break

Tell me when (When will enough)

When will enough be enough? (When will enough be enough?)

I said when (When will enough)

When will enough be enough? (When will enough be enough?)

Oh, I said when (When will enough)

When will enough be enough? (When will enough be enough?)
