

A Memory

Benji Lewis

It wasn't easy to forget
The way, you touched me
It was so easy to remember
The day you kissed me
It wasn't easy to forget
The way, you looked at me
It was so easy to remember
The day that you left me

You had me calling for more
Could have been everything
My tears are hitting the floor
You're just a memory

You had me calling for more
Could have been everything
My tears are hitting the floor
You're just a memory

You told me from the start
Stay away, I'm a lost one
And now here in the end
No regrets, only wishes
I gave it all away
My heart, with no ego
I couldn't help myself
Love, I was all yours

You had me calling for more
Could have been everything
My tears are hitting the floor
You're just a memory

You had me calling for more
Could have been everything
My tears are hitting the floor
You're just a memory

Time goes on and on
There's nothing left to say here
Can't believe it's over
Don't want it to be over
If I saw you now
What would you say to me
Probably wouldn't change a thing
But what's the harm in hoping

What's the harm
What's the harm
What's the harm in hoping
